Carlisle Indian School Teaching Kits Available

Date of Post:

May 24, 2018

Thanks to a generous grant from the NHPRC (<https://www.archives.gov/nhprc>), the Carlisle Indian School Digital Resource Center has developed a teaching kit for use in schools, libraries, and other educational institutions in the United States. The teaching kit is comprised of color facsimile reproductions of a variety of photographs, newspapers, and booklets dating from the years of the school's operation, 1879 to 1918. A full inventory of the materials included in the teaching kit is available here (<https://www.dropbox.com/sh/hykgavomb5jty4m/AADota6jwGoK9ljodADKGmkca?dl=0>), along with PDF copies of each of the items so that you can preview the content and even download your own copies, if desired. The contents of these teaching kits also complement lesson plans and other materials available in the Teaching Resources (<http://carlisleindian.dickinson.edu/teaching>) section on this website.

The grant has provided funding for 250 teaching kits to be freely distributed to interested schools, libraries, and other educational and cultural organizations where people may be teaching about the Carlisle Indian School and the Indian boarding school movement. In order to request a free teaching kit to be mailed to your school, please complete the request form below. The materials for the kits are currently being printed, and we anticipate them being mailed out mid-summer so that they are available for use during the next school year.

Please feel free to share this announcement with any school, library, or other educational institution that may be interested in requesting a teaching kit, and direct any questions to cisproject@dickinson.edu (<mailto:cisproject@dickinson.edu>).

Request Teaching Kit

The grant provides enough funding for 250 teaching kits to be freely distributed, but we may receive more than 250 requests. If enough people are interested, we may be able to print additional teaching kits, priced to cover the costs of printing and mailing. There is a place at the bottom of this form to indicate if you might be interested in purchasing a teaching kit if you are not among the first 250 people to place your request.
